

NEWSLETTER

2026

As of January 1, 2026, the Government of Quebec has decided to withdraw the tax deductions granted to citizens who consult practitioners who are not members of a professional order, as well as to students seeking training in these practices.

Practically speaking, this means that:

1. Paramedical services will no longer be eligible for the provincial tax credit when they are provided by a practitioner who is not a member of a professional order recognized by the Office des professions du Québec.

This affects a wide range of integrative and complementary health disciplines, including but not limited to:

- Osteopathy;
- Naturopathy;
- Phytotherapy;
- Homeopathy.

Only services delivered by professionals governed by a Québec professional order will remain eligible.

2. Students enrolled in training programs for disciplines not governed by a professional order will also lose access to certain tax deductions or credits related to tuition fees;

This applies to schools and institutions offering programs in non-regulated health disciplines.

Impact on practitioners, schools and their students

- Clients will no longer be able to claim the above-listed services as medical expenses on their Quebec income tax return;
- Schools offering training in non-regulated disciplines will no longer be eligible for certain education-related tax advantages, meaning that tuition receipts issued to students will no longer be claimable on their Québec income tax return;
- Receipts issued to your clients will continue to be reimbursed by insurance companies.

For more details, please consult the following two links on the Revenu Québec website:

- Association des professionnels en soins intégratifs (APSI) - <https://www.apsisante.org/projets/>
- Medical Expenses (see clause 2 – page 9 and clause 15 – page 32)
- Tuition Fees (see clause 49 to 51– page 26 to 27): Bill no 6